

Abstract – Matthew George

Combining Task Based Learning with cooperative learning strategies enables teachers to make learning more effective in the classroom. Pupils use the language they already have at their disposal to complete a task on their own, in pairs and in groups . Cooperative learning methods helps pupils to improve their social competence and helps them to do the task cycle in English.